National Eating Disorders Association (NEDA)
http://www.nationaleatingdisordres.org

NEDA, National Eating Disorders Association, is an organization that provides support, resources, and advocacy for individuals with eating disorders and their families. They offer help and resources for those struggling with anorexia, bulimia, and binge eating disorder. NEDA is a valuable resource for anyone affected by or concerned about eating disorders.

NEDA was founded in 1999 by a group of dedicated individuals who recognized the need for comprehensive resources and support for individuals with eating disorders. Since its inception, NEDA has grown to become a leading organization in the field of eating disorders.

NEDA offers a variety of resources, including a national hotline, online support groups, and comprehensive information on eating disorders. They also provide educational programs, workshops, and conferences for professionals and the general public.

NEDA is committed to raising awareness about eating disorders and de-stigmatizing these conditions. They work to break the silence and provide hope to those affected by eating disorders.

As a result of NEDA's efforts, understanding and treatment options for eating disorders have improved significantly. They continue to be a vital resource for individuals and families affected by eating disorders, providing support, information, and hope.

Visit the National Eating Disorders Association website at http://www.nationaleatingdisordres.org to learn more about their mission, resources, and how you can get involved in supporting those affected by eating disorders.